Not illustrated. 1917 Excerpt: .Probably no automatic rule can be devised to take care of it; each student s request for permission to change should be considered on its individual merits. It is recommended that the fee for changes be raised from fifty cents to one dollar, and that the Faculty be asked to consider the reasons which should be regarded as sufficient to warrant such changes. It is felt that the bringing of this matter definitely to the attention of the Faculty as a whole will probably accomplish all that is needed. Grading. An inspection of the instructors reports of grades has shown that the grading is on the whole quite conservative--which is, of course, evidence of the sound standards of the majority of the faculty. On the other hand, it is fairly clear from much testimony that there are a few cases of unduly lenient marking and perhaps several instructors who are inclined to be unreasonably severe. It is recommended that the Registrar be asked to tabulate the grades reported to him at the end of each semester, so as to show the total number of marks reported by each teacher and the distribution of these marks among the several grades, A, B, C, D and E, and to send a copy of the resulting table to each member of the faculty as early in the next semester as may be possible. It might be desirable to have the blank which is used for this purpose bear a...
